Best Practice- 'Aalana' (To care)

Objective:

Stronger women can make a stronger Nation. The institution believes in Gender equality and in empowering women. Most of the women students studying in the institution are from marginalized sections which are deprived of the means to take nutritious food. They are malnourished, Anaemic and look smaller for their age. This prevents them from participating in Sports and other activities that require physical stamina. It has been our mission to provide the required nourishment so that they can record the expected height and weight and evince an interest in sports.

Method:

Physical tests are conducted once in three months to measure their growth and HB level. Anaemic students are identified and kept under the supervision of a Gynaecologist. A diet plan mostly with locally available food items is prescribed for them with the help of nutrition experts. Funds will be raised by the institution either in the form of contributions from staff and public or from internal sources to meet the expenditure.

The Practice:

Prescribed items are procured by the purchasing committee of the Student Union. A member from the Non-teaching staff maintains a record for this stores. Menu is prepared on a daily basis. Menu includes Milk with Jaggary, Fruits, Dates, Ground Nuts and sweets prepared with Millets. These are distributed among women students in the evening absolutely free of cost. Periodical health Check-ups are organized by NSS.

Difficulties Encountered:

No difficulties were encountered so far relating to fund raising and management.

Evidence of Success:

Improvement in haemoglobin levels of the students after three months. Maintained with fewer students.

Best Practice- Green Army

Objective:

Green Army is a unit of the college that actively participates in promoting Ecological Consciousness in the community. All the Teaching, Non-Teaching staff, students and interested parents can be the members of this army. The motto has been 'There are more than Ten ways to save the Planet'.

The Method:

All the members of the Green Army take an oath to live an Eco-Friendly life. Members choose to adapt a simple life style with minimum resources. They advocate against Consumerism and actively involve themselves in campaigning these ways. Green Army works for a better tomorrow and organizes rallies to convey this message. Members get together to enact street plays to create ecological awareness. Videos are prepared by the team to reach out to the target group that leads an expensive life style at the cost of natural resources.

The Practice:

Each member in the Green Army strictly follows the 'Ten Commandments'

1. Avoid Plastic Bags
2. Use Public Transport
3. Avoid buying packed items since packing material is not biodegradable and injurious to the environment
4. Avoid Eating Out.
5. Plant a Tree on Your Birthday
6. Plants are the best gifts
7. Check the tyre pressure of your vehicle every day.
8. Manage with less water.
9. Don't buy many clothes
10. Avoid using disposable Plates and glasses.

Placards are displayed in the vicinity of the institution to attract the passersby.

Resources:

Placards and Videos

Evidence of Success:

All the efforts of the Green Army received encouragement from the community. The number is ever expanding.

Best Practice- Soft Skill Training

Objective:

In today's world of cut throat competition individuals need to be physically fit, mentally strong and emotionally balanced. Students pursuing higher education need to be equipped with certain soft skills that enable them face the challenges of the outside world boldly.

Method:

Soft skills cannot be taught in isolation. Integrating Soft Skills with Text will be double beneficiary for students since it provides an opportunity for them to learn language skills and soft skills simultaneously. The Department of Telugu, The Department of English and the Department of Hindi have jointly designed a programme titled, 'Samishti' to impart training in soft skills along with language skills such as Listening, Speaking, Reading and Writing. Poems/Prose pieces/Narrations emphasizing on soft skills such as Positive Thinking, Emotional Intelligence, Time Management, Interpersonal relationships, Punctuality, Netiquette are collected from various sources. It is seen that the text is collected from different cultures with a view to create acceptability. Activities to promote Language Skills and identification of Soft Skills are designed separately for each piece in this collection.

Practice:

Students are involved in the activities designed for that selected piece. Experiential questions are given to check the understanding. Practical conditions are simulated to measure the use of the soft skills they have learnt.

Evidence of Success:

Stories have been an all time favourite of people irrespective of their age. This method has evoked interest among the students use soft skills. For example the value of team work is taught using an African story titled, 'Ubuntu'.

Best Practice- Self Help is the Best Help

Objective:

To utilize student services for the larger good of the institution and to implement strategical Self- management. Most of the times Government institutions hire personnel from outside to carry out minor repairs and to maintain other establishments. It has been thought that these services can be obtained internally by roping in student community.

Method:

Students who wish to volunteer themselves are identified and included in the Self Help is the Best Help Group of the institution. These students already exhibit certain mechanical and technical skills. They are further trained in carrying out minor and major electric repairs, repairs to computers and other lab equipment. Weekly one hour training is provided to this group by a team of experts either from the staff or from a person hired from outside on payment basis. It is a one time investment for the institution since successive generations of students are trained by seniors.

Practice:

The trained students are an asset to the institution. They carry out minor repairs with ease to save money and time.

Resources:

Tool Box and other CDs that help in fixing Bios issues

Evidence of Success:

This scheme received appreciation even from the parents since students are heard of utilizing their skill set at home.

Bahumaanam- Student Incentive Programme

Objective:

The objective of this practice is to encourage students who perform well in the university exams. Most of the students in the institution are from uneducated family background. There is no guidance either from their parents or from their community. But some students prove to be self-motivated and excel in academics. They score relatively high than their counter parts from elite sections of the society. The institution feels the onus to identify and encourage such students.

Method:

Cash awards are instituted by the teaching faculty in the concerned subject and are distributed during the next academic year. Students receive cash awards from Rs. 500/- (Rupees Five Hundred) to Rs.1000/- (Rupees One Thousand) every year.

Practice

The following departments regularly follow this practice

1. Department of English- Ms. K. Maitreyi (Assistant Professor in English)
2. Department of Chemistry- Sri B. Koteswara Rao (Assistant Professor in Chemistry)
3. Department of Political Science- Ms. N. Subhashsini (Assistant Professor in Political Science)
4. Department of Telugu- Dr. V. Bhavani (Assistant Professor in Telugu)
5. Department of Economics Sri V. Koteswara Rao (Associate Professor in Economics)

The practice proved to be very effective in motivating students. They felt satisfied since their efforts are recognized. The cash prizes have motivated them for further achievements.

Resources:

From staff and philanthropists

Evidence of Success:

This scheme received appreciation even from the parents

Title of the Best Practice:
Jaladaan – Free Purified Drinking Water for Students

Goal

To provide purified drinkingwater to students
To provide water on cost sharing basis by staff

Context

Students come from far off places
They need water on the campus
The well water is not suitable for drinking
The Panchayat Tap is not functioning properly
The students need safe and purified drinking water
The students are from poor families and they cannot contribute for the payment

Practice

It is observed that some students who come from far off places are dropping out due to the non-availability of water on the campus. The water available with the well is not potable. Hence all the members of staff have decided to contribute and offer free and safe drinking wate to the students on cost sharing basis. For the last three years this practice has been going on and the students are reaping the benefit out of it

Evidence of Success

Cheyuta – Contributory Financial Support for Poor Students

Goal:

To provide financial to poor students apart from the help provided by Government

Context:

Students come from first generation impoverished families They need help for buying books, attending competitions in other colleges and for transport

Practice:

It is observed that most of the students who attend college are from first generation families. They are mostly from marginalized sections. They work on part time basis to help their parents and attend college. They hesitate to come forward to participate in competitions and though intelligent, they lag behind due to their inability to purchase books, note books etc., Hence the staff members have decided to extend a supportive hand (Cheyutha) by providing them books, notebooks and also paying their fees and extending financial help to attend competitions in other places.

Evidence of Success:

Students' attendance increased
Students started participating in competitions and bag prizes
Their self-confidence has increased.

Mayukha - Manuscript Magazine

Goal:

To promote creative and critical thinking skills among students
To promote writing and reading skills among students

Needs Identified:

Students lack reading and writing ability in mother tongue as well as in English
Students need imagination and thinking skills to solve problems in real life

Practice:

After a long observation regarding the absence of imagination, thinking skills, reading and writing ability, it is decided to encourage them to pen their ideas in the form of short stories, short essays on current problems, poems, songs and cartoons on various aspects of their lives and bring it in the form of a manuscript magazine. As it is a hand-written magazine it does not involve much expenditure and periodically the articles/poems etc., are collected, edited and written and will be brought out in the form of a magazine and will be released on the college day every year. The copies of this magazine will be kept in the library for reading.

Evidence of Success:

Students after initial hesitation contributing and enjoying
They also discuss issues related to magazine in the classes and on the campus.
